Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133).
- Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-27 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-26 of U.S. Patent No. 5,935,862. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both are directed to method and apparatus for the detection of chemical warfare agents using a capillary tube, a chromatographic absorbent and an indicator.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Tyihak et al.

See the appropriate paragraph of paper 2.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 1743

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 17-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tyihak et al.

See the appropriate paragraph of paper 2.

Allowable Subject Matter

If Applicants were to overcome the above obviousness type of double patenting rejection and cancel system claims 12-17, the art of record would be overcome with respect to method claims 1-11.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter in claims 1-11: The cited prior art fails to teach or anticipate the claimed method where the sample is immobilized at the point of contact with the chromatographic sheet. The cited art teaches the opposite concept of the sample migrating away from the sample application point .

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 8/6/02 have been fully considered.

Applicant remarks to the method claims 1-11 were convincing. See the above reasons for allowance.

Applicants traverse the system claims 12-27 on the basis that a different method is being performed with the claimed system claims as compared to Tyihak et al. The method of intended use of an apparatus is of no patentable moment with respect with respect to pending apparatus claims.
